ROOSEVELT URGES STABILIZATION OF WAGES AND SALARIES

R.A.F. Stages Greatest Aerial Offensive of War

Tons of Explosives Fired on Rostock And Captive Areas

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH
Associated Press War Editor

The RAF ruled the skies of western Europe today in its greatest offensive of the war, a strategic factor upon which the whole course of the conflict may depend.

It threatened devastation of centers of German power, one by one, in the deliberate manner of the last four nights of consecutive bombing at Rostock, a process which no doubt would be speeded up when and if Germany gets under way against Russia.

It was estimated that 1,600,000 pounds of bombs had been dumped on Rostock.

BROAD POWER GIVEN HITLER BY REICHSTAG

Act Arouses Hopeful Suspicion of Enemies That Germany is in Deep Internal Trouble

ANXIETY IS BETRAYED

London, April 27.—(P)—Adolf Hitler made himself the supreme master of Germany yesterday, with flat power even above his own Nazi law, and his act aroused the hopeful suspicion of his enemies that Germany is in deep internal trouble after a winter of near-catastrophe.

The extraordinary power to require absolute obedience from every German was voted at Hitler's demand by the Reichstag after he had addressed its members in a speech strangely mixing his usual bombast and confident predictions of victory with a new undercurrent of anxiety.

One of these predictions was that Soviet Russia would be the decisive battleground of the world conflict and that it would be a scene of Nazi triumph.

But Hitler's demand came immediately after he had conceded to the Reichstag that the German army survived a "threatening catastrophe" and suffered hardships for which the Reich had been unprepared during the terrible cold of the Russian winter.

That the Fuehrer, who became Germany's military as well as civil overlord during the winter crisis on the Soviet front, should now demand strengthening of his dictatorial power was hailed both in Britain and Russia as a sign that Nazidom's home front was cracking.

Most British reaction reflected the surmise of the Daily Mail that the "shadow of opposition" has risen within the Third Reich.

As soon as he had finished, after one hour and one minute, Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, president of the Reichstag, asked for a rising vote of consent and the Berlin radio said the Reichstag, in whose midst were many in the field gray of Hitler's army, "rose as one man."

London, April 27.—(P)—Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, has told friends that Germany cannot open up any new front this year. Reuters quoted an Istanbul dispatch to the independent French news agency as saying today.

London, April 27.—(P)—Two new Japanese thrusts have further imperiled the United Nations' position in Burma, British sources reported today.

London, April 27.—(P)—Nearly 1,000 Finnish troops were reported killed last week in a Russian offensive in frozen Lapland as the Red army pushed forward in a spring drive likened to the one of two years ago which ended in Finland's defeat.

Tokyo (From Japanese Broadcasts) April 27.—(P)—Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo said today that despite successive Japanese victories "the war still has to be fought."

Washington, April 27.—(P)—The war department reported today that the Japanese had broken through the Corregidor fortress on Luzon, a Japanese troop concentration on the nearby Bataan peninsula in the Philippines and set free a number of enemy motor trucks.

Chungking, April 27.—(P)—Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese army announced today that it had recaptured Hsiong, increasing the advantage of its position guarding Mandalay from the southeast.

Vichy, Unoccupied France, April 27.—(P)—United States Ambassador William D. Leahy, recalled to Washington for "consultation" after pro-Axis Pierre Laval became head of the French government, received a fond "au revoir" today from his friend, Marshal Petain.

Entire Eastern Seaboard To Become Military Area Soon

Sweeping Wartime Measure Covers 400,000-Square Mile Sector

CONTROL OF ALIENS

New York, April 27.—(P)—The conduct of 52,000,000 civilians soon will be subject to army regulation and control through designation of the entire Atlantic seaboard as the Eastern Military Area.

This sweeping wartime measure covering a 400,000-square-mile sector bigger than Germany and Italy combined was announced yesterday by Lieut. General Hugh A. Drum, commanding general of the Eastern Defense Command and First Army, as effective at "an early date."

Chief object in establishment of the military area, the announcement said, is to control the conduct of "enemy aliens as well as of all other persons" as a safeguard against subversive activities.

The first step in enforcement of restrictions already has been taken, the commanders of the four corps areas involved having been directed to assume control over all lighting on the coast to prevent silhouetting of ships and their consequent destruction by enemy submarines.

Swift action by Major General Sherman Miles, commanding general of the First Corps Area, with headquarters at Boston, caused the darkening last night of the whole New England coastline "until further notice."

Girl On Trial For Cremating Sister's Babe

Pittsburgh, April 27.—(P)—Wilma Lettrich, 26, of Fawn township, went on trial on a murder charge, accused of smothering and burning the infant child of Anna Lettrich, the defendant's 21-year-old unmarried sister.

Visiting Judge John G. Lamoree of Lawrence county presided while a jury was selected. Six jurors, five of them women with Mrs. Eleanor Craig of Wilkesburg the foreman, had been selected by noon.

Assistant District Attorney Earl Jackson asked prospective jurors if they held prejudices against the death penalty.

The baby's death occurred last November about nine days after birth but Wilma Lettrich was not arrested until Jan. 17. County Detective J. Edward Weber said, Anna Lettrich faces trial on a morals charge and a charge of accessory before the fact to murder.

Five Killed and 262 Hurt In Tube Wreck

Heavily-Laden Hudson River Subway Train Is Destroyed in Jersey

RESCUE SQUAD BUSY

BULLETIN
Jersey City, April 27.—(P)—The motorcar of a Hudson river tube train which piled up last night, killing five persons and injuring 262, was held for grand jury action today on charges of operating a public conveyance while under the influence of liquor. Manslaughter charges were also filed against the motorcar, Louis A. Vierbuchen, 48, Newark.

Jersey City, N. J., April 27.—(P)—Five persons were killed and 262 injured as the third car of a heavily-laden Hudson river tube train jumped the track and lurched along 75 feet underground at the Exchange Place station at 10:40 p. m. (Eastern War Time) last night.

Daniel Casey, public safety commissioner, announced early today he had booked the motorcar of the Eastbound Hudson and Manhattan Railroad's six-car train, Louis A. Vierbuchen, 48, of Newark, on a manslaughter charge. The derailment cut power lines plunging the tunnel into blackness at the deepest point on the line, just before the train burrows under the Hudson river. Acrid fumes gushed from storage batteries in the wrecked car, which left the track with a blinding flash and burst into flames. Women shrieked, car windows were kicked out. One negro girl, pinned under a seat, had to be extracted by acetylene torches.

All but 100 of those injured were (Turn to Page Seven)

Axis Subs Get 12 More Ships

New York, April 27.—(P)—Axis submarines sent 12 Allied vessels to the bottom last week, in the battle of the Atlantic, while three other submarine victims previously reported sunk were salvaged and reached port safely, according to official announcements.

This brought the announced Atlantic losses since Pearl Harbor to 150. During the week of April 20-26, seven ships sunk in U. S. east coast waters made the war total for that area 79; no new sinkings off Canada left that total 24; three in the Caribbean raised that war total to 37, and two off South America. PRESIDENT ENROLLS AT WHITE HOUSE

Chief Executive to be Given I-C Classification After Submitting Questionnaire Later

WOMEN MAY BE NEXT

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER

Washington, April 27.—(P)—President Roosevelt and the bulk of 13,000,000 other Americans in the 45-65 group were called upon to register today to complete, except for the 1-20 year olds, the nation's inventory of manpower for both fighting and non-combatant war duty.

To minimize interference with work on war jobs, the second biggest enrollment since the war started began in some areas over the weekend and will continue after today where necessary. Today was R-day for most, however.

The chief executive, who was 60 last January, arranged to register along with other White House officials in the cabinet room of the White House.

It was understood that he would be given a I-C classification, which covers those already in military service. This is the same grouping given registrants who enlist while awaiting induction.

The 45-65 age group will not be subject to military duty, but will be classified by occupations and skills for possible war production jobs.

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, said recently that men and women over 45, even those with children, would be sent into production lines to replace men capable of serving with the fighting forces when the nation reaches the peak of its war effort. Women will be asked to register voluntarily later.

Men between 18 and 20 are subject to registration now under the law, but no date has been set for enumerating them. Meanwhile, they are being encouraged to enlist.

Harrisburg, April 27.—(P)—Selective service officials estimated that 1,000,000 Pennsylvanians between the ages of 45 and 65 would be registered today in the fourth survey of the nation's wartime manpower.

The 422 Pennsylvania draft boards were instructed to remain open after 9 p. m.—the fixed closing hour—to accommodate men who might be in waiting lines.

NAVY ANNOUNCES THE LOSS OF DESTROYER

Washington, April 27.—(P)—The navy announced today the destroyer Sturtevant had been sunk off the coast of Florida "by an underwater explosion within the past 24 hours."

Loss of life was small, the navy communique reported, and most of the crew of the old World War vessel reached port safely, indicating that the ship must have gone down quite slowly.

Forest Fires Are Raging In Many Sections

By the Associated Press
Volunteers stood guard over Pennsylvania forests today to prevent fresh outbreaks of fires which destroyed hundreds of acres of valuable timber over the weekend. Nearly a score of fires were reported in widely scattered sections. Nine blazes, each covering about 100 acres, raged in Tioga state forest and District Forester Paul H. Mulford said one possibly was of incendiary origin.

Hundreds of acres of timberland were burned in the Allegheny National Forest and adjoining areas in northwest Pennsylvania, including 25 acres of the Tionesta tract of Virgin Hemlock valued at several thousand dollars an acre.

A fire alarm was sounded in Kane to mobilize men to fight a blaze that broke out Saturday night and swept over 500 acres in the vicinity of Marvendale, 15 miles northwest of Kane. They also brought under control 10 fires which were started west of Kane by sparks from locomotives chugging up Kane hill with heavy loads. (Turn to Page Seven)

Youngsville Soldier Is On Missing List

Father of Cpl. Porter Armstrong Receives Sad News From Army

PLANE CREW MEMBER

Word has been received from the War Department in Washington by relatives in Youngsville that Cpl. Porter Armstrong, 24, son of William A. Armstrong, of 106 Second street, Youngsville, has been reported "missing in action" by Army officials in Hawaii.

Cpl. Armstrong is the first Warren county young man to be so reported since the start of the war.

According to a telegram received by the youth's father from the War Department, Cpl. Armstrong a bombardier in the U. S. Army Air Corps, was a member of the crew of a plane which was reported missing. It was stated that a search was still being conducted for the missing plane and crew. More details will be forthcoming, it was stated.

Cpl. Armstrong, a graduate of the Youngsville High School with the Class of 1936, enlisted in the U. S. Army Air Corps in October, 1939, at Mitchell Field, L. I. When his family last heard from him, he was stationed at Sta. Lucia, an island near Trinidad off the coast of South America. The last letter received by the family was mailed from Sta. Lucia on April 19 and arrived in Youngsville on April 17. It is not known here when he was transferred to the Hawaiian Islands.

Besides his father, Cpl. Armstrong has a brother and three sisters, Gordon Armstrong, Mrs. James Reynolds and Miss Dorothy Armstrong, all of Youngsville, and Mrs. Gladys Gerris, who has been spending the winter in Florida, but who is now enroute to Washington, D. C., where she has secured a position.

Young Father Slays Student

Pueblo, Colo., April 27.—(P)—A 26-year-old father was spirited through an angry crowd to the state prison today after Police Chief J. Arthur Grady said the man admitted torturing and slaying Alice Porter, 16-year-old high school girl.

Grady termed it "the most amazing, most gruesome confession in my 38 years on the force."

Missing since Wednesday night, Miss Porter's nude body was found yesterday, badly mutilated, in a cistern at an abandoned ranch house.

Women Workers and Men Who Head Various Units Turn Out Almost Hundred Per Cent

TALKS IN CHURCHES

At an enthusiastic "early bird" breakfast held this morning at eight o'clock at the Y. W. C. A., the intensive portion of the 1942 Community Chest campaign was launched in an atmosphere that indicated success for the drive for $40,800 for the seven member agencies.

There was nearly one hundred percent attendance of women workers at the breakfast, in addition to men who head the various unit divisions in the campaign.

During the brief meeting which followed the breakfast, it was reported that ten local groups already have exceeded their unit quotas in the campaign.

These groups, with the percentage of quotas raised, were announced as follows by H. D. Kopf, general chairman of the campaign, who presided at the breakfast: Metzger-Wright Company, 110 percent; Pennsylvania Electric Company, 100 percent; Warren National Bank, 120 percent; Warren Lamp Company, 102 percent; Warren Bank and Trust Company, 108 percent; Barnhart-Davis Company, 100 percent; Seneca School, 101 percent; Lacy School, 101 percent; United Refining Company, 102 percent; Community Chest Campaign office, 102 percent.

Mr. Roosevelt reported that "all strikes are at a minimum." The president will discuss the program for the nation in a radio address tomorrow night, senate Democratic Leader Barkley said after a White House conference. The hour was not announced immediately.

The program, outlined in a message to congress, was the administration's plan for gearing the economy of the nation and its people to emergency war conditions.

The chief executive also proposed heavy taxes, holding personal and corporate profits to reasonable (Turn to Page Seven)

BABE RUTH ARRIVES BACK IN NEW YORK

New York, April 27.—(P)—Babe Ruth, whose chief worry two weeks ago was pneumonia, came home today from the west coast confronted with a new problem—how to reduce his daily consumption of 10 to 15 cigars.

"The doctors say cut down on cigars, no beer or highballs," the former home-run king said as he arrived by train from Los Angeles.

Ruth was stricken while playing in a film, based on the life of the late Lou Gehrig, but made a rapid recovery.

He appeared brown and healthy and said that he would register immediately in the fourth selective service registration. He is 47.

ORDER FREEZES MOST RADIO CONSTRUCTION

Washington, April 27.—(P)—The Federal Communications Commission today froze for the duration of the war all domestic radio construction with two exceptions. Chairman James L. Fly said the order applied to standard, television, facsimile, relay and high frequency stations.

The only exceptions to the freezing order were experimental high frequency and non-commercial educational stations.

International broadcasting was not involved.

Profits must be taxed to the utmost limit consistent with continued production. This means all business profits—not only in making munitions, but in making or selling anything else.

And I therefore believe that in time of this grave national danger when all excess income should go to win the war, no American citizen ought to have a net income, after he has paid his taxes, of more than $25,000 a year.

We are now spending, solely for war purposes, the sum of about one hundred million dollars every day of the week. But before this year is over that rate of expenditure will be doubled. This means that a sum equal to more than half of the entire national income will be spent in the war effort.

SEVEN-POINT PLAN LISTED IN MESSAGE

Program Outlined to Congress For Gearing Economy of Nation to War Conditions

TO HALT LIVING COSTS

Washington, April 27.—(P)—President Roosevelt said today that during the war "no American citizen ought to have a net income, after he has paid his taxes, of more than $25,000 a year" in proposing to congress a seven-point program designed to combat the upward spiral in living costs.

The president proposed stabilization of wages and salaries of individuals, saying "I believe that stabilizing the cost of living will mean that wages in general can and should be kept at existing levels" and asked repeal of the provisions of the price-fixing law which allow farm commodities to rise to 110 percent of parity. Parity is the price designed to give the farmer a return, based on industrial purchases, enjoyed in a 1909-14 base period.

Mr. Roosevelt also declared it was "indefensible that those who enjoyed large incomes from state and local securities should be immune from taxation while we are at war" and urged that state, municipal and similar bonds "be subject at least to surtaxes."

Flatly opposing suspension of the 40-hour work week law, the president said: "Most workers in munition industries are working far more than 40 hours a week, and should continue to be paid at time and a half for overtime. Otherwise, their weekly pay envelopes would be reduced."

Mr. Roosevelt reported that "all strikes are at a minimum." The president will discuss the program for the nation in a radio address tomorrow night, senate Democratic Leader Barkley said after a White House conference. The hour was not announced immediately.

The program, outlined in a message to congress, was the administration's plan for gearing the economy of the nation and its people to emergency war conditions.

Highlights Of Message On Living Costs Offered Today

Washington, April 27.—(P)—Highlights of President Roosevelt's message to congress today follow:

The rise in the cost of living during this war has begun to parallel the last. The time has definitely come to stop the spiral and we can face the fact that there must be a drastic reduction in our standard of living.

We must x x x adopt as one of the principal domestic objectives the stabilization of the cost of living, and this is essential to the fortification of our whole economic structure.

We are now spending, solely for war purposes, the sum of about

WITH THE CANDIDATES

Harrisburg, April 27.—(P)—Minority political groups in Pennsylvania must decide by Wednesday whether they will enter tickets in the November general election campaign.

As candidates for governor and other offices in the two major parties continued aggressive campaigns for nomination at the May 19 primary, the state election bureau fixes April 29 at the deadline for other political parties to file their slates of candidates.

The bureau acted in compliance with the state election code, which requires minority groups to name their candidates 20 days in advance of a primary. The 1937 legislature adopted the provision to prevent defeated primary candidates from continuing their campaigns under another party name.

The 1941 registration showed a total of 63,182 of Pennsylvania's 5,000,000 voters outside the Republican and Democratic parties.

One independent group, the United Pension Party, has already filed its nominating petitions with Senator John J. Haluska, Cambria county Democrat, as its candidate for governor on a platform of "800-at-60," and $20 monthly state bonus for each Pennsylvanian in the armed services.

Over the weekend, P. Stephen Stahlacker, leader of the new guard group in the Republican party, joined the forces of U. S. Senator James J. Davis, seeking the party nomination for governor, although he said the new guard group would keep out of the primary.

Candidates of both parties criticized the state administration as a result of weekend developments.

HOLD BROOKLYN MAN

Detectives of Erie questioned a 24-year-old man from Brooklyn, N. Y., today in connection with the hold-up-slitting of Lloyd Wilkinson, 23, a Navy petty officer, of North East, April 3, District Attorney Burton R. He was arrested in St. Louis April 13 and taken to Erie yesterday by Laub and a state policeman.

Final instructions for teachers and others who will serve as registrars of sugar using "trade outlets" tomorrow and Wednesday are being given this afternoon at the Warren High School by Albert Bertalott, of Harrisburg, representing the state rationing organization.

Today's meeting includes only those in Warren borough. Instructions to registrars at the high schools in other parts of the county have been sent out from the county superintendent's office.

At the local high school, registration will be only by appointment during the day. Those who do not have appointments may register from four to nine p. m., it was stated.

Those in charge of the local registration of trade outlets urged that appointments be made if possible in order to prevent undue waiting.

Meanwhile, housewives had their final opportunity today to buy sugar under a federal order prohibiting retail sales throughout the nation for a week.

Retail sales are banned from midnight tonight until the start of the sugar rationing program May 5 to prevent last minute rushes on stores and to enable retailers to adjust stocks for rationed sales.

Registering tomorrow and Wednesday will be restaurants, industrial users, retail stores, wholesale dealers in foods, prisons, hospitals and other large users of sugar.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction, said the government "takes a very serious view of this registration," as is indicated in the constant calling of attention to the consequences of registrants making false statements, the same becoming a criminal offense with a very heavy penalty attached.

Restaurants and other food services will be allotted in the month of 80 per cent of the amount of sugar used in May, 1941. Some specialty industries will be given 70 per cent.

Throughout the state, it is expected that some 90,000 sugar-using trade outlets will be registered tomorrow and Wednesday. This will be done in the state's 1,277 Pennsylvania high schools.

In addition to assisting with the registration tomorrow, school teachers also will register the civilian population in elementary schools from May 4 to 7.

She was married to Mr. Ralston when he was manager of the Titusville office of the Western Union. They later came to Warren, where they remained for several years. After managing the local Western Union office for some time, Mr. Ralston was qualified himself as a newspaper telegrapher and held that position on the Warren Morning Mirror until teletype machines came into use.

Linden, of Buffalo; Carl Linden, of Wesleyville, and Harold Linden, of Albion, N. Y.; and two sisters, Mrs. Fred Warren, of Oil City, and Mrs. Irving Vicker, of Barboursville, Ohio.

Family Here Sets Unusual Record Today

A record which may not be equalled throughout the state of Pennsylvania was set by a Warren county family today when ten brothers, all but one of them residing in this immediate vicinity, were enrolled in the fourth Selective Service registration, which includes men between the ages of 45 and 65.

An eleventh brother, just under the 45-year age limit, was registered on February 16th.

The men who comprise this unusual family are the sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Albaugh, of Clarendon. The ten who registered today are Melvin, 46, and Alva, 48, of Warren; Laverne, 50, and Scott, 52, of Clarendon; Millard, 54, of Sheffield; Orville, 55, and Charles, 56, of Warren; Andrew, 58, of Westfield, N. Y.; Bert, 59, and Joe, 62, of Warren.

Glenn Albaugh, 42, of Valley Station, Ky., enrolled in the third Selective Service registration on February 16th.

Two of the brothers, Scott and Glenn Albaugh, are veterans of World War I.

The men also have a sister, Mrs. F. E. Watson, of Clarendon. Registration centers throughout the county reported being very busy today as approximately 3,500 men within this age group registered, in order to give a cross-section of work abilities. Those who enroll today are not subject to military service.

Registration places will be open until nine o'clock this evening.

Schools and liquor outlets here, as well as throughout the state, were closed during the day.

A large number who found it inconvenient to be registered today were enrolled Saturday morning at the offices of the two local Selective Service boards.

Ohio Man Is Arrested On Arms Charge

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Tracy M. Greenlund this morning on a charge of carrying firearms without a permit, Russell Shall, of Warren, Ohio, pleaded guilty and in default of $1,000 bail was remanded to the custody of the sheriff to await the next term of court.

Shall was arrested by Private L. G. Fobes, of the state motor police, following an accident on the Scott crossing overland near Irvine, on U. S. route 6, when a 1935 Ford coupe which he was driving struck the curb on the right side of the east approach to the bridge. The car then swerved to the left, striking the curb, and then ran off the road. The accident occurred about 6 p. m. Saturday.

The Ohio man suffered lacerations about the forehead and a slight concussion.

Upon searching the man, Private Fobes said, he found Shall to be carrying a .22 calibre pistol.

"THE MALE ANIMAL" AT THE LIBRARY THEATRE TODAY AND TUESDAY

There are certainly no priorities on daughter as you're sure to find out when you go to the Library Theatre today and Tuesday where Warner Bros.' howling hit, "The Male Animal," starts its local run. It has everything that makes for one grand comedy—gags, comic situations, breezy dialogue and plenty of romance. And what's more, it has the finest cast of this season's crop of laugh hits.

In the leading roles are lovely Olivia de Havilland, as the wife of a college professor, and Henry Fonda as her husband, a fellow who is soft-spoken but firm. The film combines wild comedy with plausibility in a story of a professor who simply can't get excited about the coming "big game" and his wife who has too fond a memory for a certain former football hero.

THE COMMUNITY FUND APPEAL

Opportunity to give to the Warren Community Chest is yours this week!

Count it a privilege. Seven agencies, tried and tested in years of efficient service to make Warren a better place in which to live depend greatly on the success of the campaign this year. And the success of the effort depends upon the response of citizens.

More men and women are working in industrial plants this year than at any time since 1929 and 1930. Factories are humming and stores are crowded on shopping days.

Every person who is actively employed should count it a privilege—and this is no mere persiflage—to give liberally to the Chest. This one campaign relieves the community of the bother of seven separate drives for funds. Budgets of all participating organizations have been scanned, and counter-scanned; not a dollar is wasted. Virtually every dollar that you give will register 100 per cent in productiveness. Can you ask more?

We must not allow ourselves to forget, in our anxiety over the fate of war's victims abroad, the victims of our own war—the war against need, and suffering, and privation against sickness, despair and lack of opportunity. This is the eternal war—the war which no armistice has ever ended, no peace treaty ever settled. Now we are being asked to enlist for a brief period in that war, to enlist our dollars, our time, and our concern.

It is little enough! The American job is a big one. It is to make our country the best place in the world—to set up a standard to which other countries can turn when the fires of war have burned themselves out. This we cannot do while a single American lacks opportunity, medical care, and the other many services rendered by local agencies affiliated to the Community Chests in this and approximately 550 other communities in the country.

If Warren men and women this year measure up individually, as they should, and we feel confident they will, then the goal of $40,800 will be reached.

We hope so, and so does every person who takes pride in the fact that this is his home, and who down in his heart, in good times and in adversity, is a constructive booster for all that means happier days for Warren.

HOLDING THE BAG

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation's willingness to take unsalable automobiles, tires, refrigerators, etc., off the hands of manufacturers is a commendable step toward relief of an extremely hard-hit class of little business men.

The real beneficiaries will be the distributors. Having been deprived of their normal means of livelihood, these distributors should not have their capital, including loans on which they must pay interest, tied up indefinitely.

DAFFY, EH, WHAT?

First the boys from the country go to the city, to work in factories. Then there isn't enough help to plant, cultivate and market food crops. So Uncle Sam goes to the cities to find men to send back to the farms to do the work there.

Probably it is inevitable. But it sounds more than a little daffy, doesn't it?

That was a fine and deserving tribute paid the Rev. J. H. Cruickshank and family, at North Warren Friday evening marking the start of the eleventh year of faithful service given the congregation of the North Warren Presbyterian church by that popular pastor. Our congratulations to Rev. Cruickshank.

From the trend of Hitler's remarks, as interpreted by radio yesterday, it would appear that the shadow of opposition has risen within the Third Reich.

Families without a week's supply of sugar will be in a sweet predicament until rationing cards are issued.

Time to Take the Bull By the Horns

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Mr. Paul Ward-Brody, former editor of a women's fashion magazine, has some faults to find with Washington women. He thinks they dress sloppily and are inclined to just let themselves go.

Ward-Brody is now employed by a chemical company. He is making a survey of the nation's fire-fighting equipment and while doing so has an opportunity to observe the gals in a lot of our government offices.

Gauging them against his observations of womenkind as editor of a fashion magazine, he levels these complaints against our "defense girls" (who, in keeping with the present trend, probably now ought to be called "war effort girls"):

1. They allow their hair to go to loose ends.
2. They have "telltale hands" from lack of lotion.
3. They let their lipstick peel, have "smudged" makeup.
4. They don't keep their nail polish in repair.
5. They wear spotted clothes.

In one office that he visited, said Ward-Brody, seven out of nine girls wore their stockings with the seams crooked.

Ward-Brody's concern is that it has a demoralizing effect on the war effort.

"Nothing bolsters man's esprit corps (French for 'the ol' pep' or 'there, gang!') more than the charm of a well-groomed woman," he says. "It is in her power to inspire greater efficiency and the necessary constructive thinking for the war."

In all justice to Ward-Brody, it must be admitted that not all Washington girls would stack up with the models he used to run into during those days on the women's magazine. One of the wrongest ideas about Washington is that it is jammed with choice bits of femininity who would rate right up there with Hepburn and Bette Davis.

BUT—in all justice to the girls—it must be said that very often there's a darn good reason if sometimes they're not right up to snuff. The reason is that as a whole they're the hardest-working bunch of girls in the country. It's another wrong idea about Washington that stenographers spend half of their time fixing their hair or slipping out for a cup of coffee. It may be true in some cases—and in some offices more than others—but I think I can give you a good idea of how hard some of the girls work by relating just one story:

One war-important office, a girl I know worked for 36 hours, right straight through. And before she finally went home, three others had been carried out.

That sort of stuff doesn't leave much time for repairing fingernail polish, but it can't be said that it's exactly holding back the war effort either.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—I do not know more than you whether vaudeville has staged an honest-to-goodness come-back, but if I had to bet on it I'd say no. One swallow does not make a summer and one big vaudeville extravaganza that is a hit on Broadway in no way establishes the return of a piece of entertainment that died years ago. People will always crowd a theater—any theater—see a cast of headliners go through their paces, but when you talk of vaudeville, as a part of show business, returning to its former eminence, you are saying that thousands of skills and acts are successfully swinging the show circuits of America, as they did in the days before the depression.

I don't think that the success of one or two shows on Broadway has any significance. There is a tendency hereabouts to brand anything of which New York approves as of national character. This is a mistake. You can build a show around Victor Moore, Paul Draper, the Hartmans, and a dozen other first flight stars and make a showing with them anywhere at any time, but you can not institute a system and have it hold up in communities, great or small, in all sections of the country.

THAT'S what vaudeville was in its prime. It was a phase of American life, just as Ford's, drug stores and G-men. People wanted that type of entertainment—the acrobats, the adagio dancers, the baggy-pants comics, the stogees, traveling salesmen and farmers' daughters translated into terms of five minute skills on movie theater stages. They don't any more. They haven't... that is... Not enough of them have for a long, long time... and I don't think they do now.

I have read some dozen or twenty articles and statements in recent days on the wonderful revival of vaudeville. . . . Unfortunately, this is misleading. . . . What happened was that a couple of showmen collected some really able artists, whose names have been kept brightly alive because of their stage, radio, nightclub, and film work, and cast them in an extravagant vaudeville show on Broadway. That is all. It isn't "Vaudeville" that's a success. It's Victor Moore. . . . It's Paul Draper. . . . It's the Hartmans. . . . You put unknown players in those same roles, change the same prices, and see how far you would get. I don't think you could pay the freight. I may be wrong.

WHENEVER you see a mimic in a nightclub go through his act, you are seeing vaudeville. . . . Whenever you hear a torch singer moan out a low down blues lament, you are seeing vaudeville. . . . Whenever you see a comic break gags over the head of a stooge, you are seeing vaudeville. . . . And it doesn't matter whether they are on a parking lot at high noon, in a saloon, or on a theater stage. . . . Vaudeville is a daisy chain of individual acts strung together on a loud and breezy score of tunes. . . . All America still likes twenty minutes of this sort of fun, but all of America doesn't want two hours of unrelieved gags, moans, animal antics, and trick dances I think it is stretching it a little to say without qualification that vaudeville is back.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

A few weeks ago, I had occasion to visit some friends of mine in Nebraska.

Nebraska certainly is a great State. I like Nebraska. I like those immense cornfields that seem to stretch from horizon to horizon. (Plenty of wheatfields in Nebraska, too.)

But the thing that interests me most about Nebraska right now is the very important social experiment the beer people started there several years ago.

Beer itself is naturally a beverage of moderation. Yet, all too often, people are inclined to blame beer wrongly for any misconduct of the customer or the proprietor in a place licensed to sell beer.

So, the brewers got together to see what they could do about this. They weren't really responsible for their retailers... in fact, they're not allowed to control retailers. But the brewing industry worked out a plan by which it cooperates with the public authorities to eliminate bad conditions in the minority of places whose conduct would reflect on the law-abiding majority.

The beer people urge proprietors of retail places to conduct them properly and to obey the law. They urge consumers to cooperate, and ask the public generally to report law violations to the authorities. They send warnings to careless retailers and if conditions are not corrected they take the case up with the authorities. Naturally the authorities and the public have welcomed this as an added force in building respect for law and order.

That program is now operating in many states—and with the Nation at war, brewing industry organizations cooperate with civil and military authorities to assure good conditions in beer outlets around the army camps and naval stations.

Somewhat, to me, that's a mighty important, public-spirited effort. I don't know of anything like it ever having been tried before. If people really help the brewers with that program they'll be doing a great thing for the country.

JNXX'S LUCK

Philadelphia, April 27.—(P)—"Jynx" lived up to her name yesterday—but this time she escaped unhurt.

Veterinarian Charles Shope's 17-year-old wire-haired terrier won her appellation, when—at six months, she fell off a davenport and broke her leg. Since then all her legs and sundry other bones have been fractured in a series of accidents.

Yesterday, when fire broke out in

Mr. Shope's kennels, she set up a howl. She and six other dogs, with a total value of $1,500, were saved.

LARGE FIELD EXPECTED TO RUN IN DERBY

Louisville, Ky., April 27.—(F)—Derbytown began to powder its nose and put on fresh face paint today for its big horse holiday week, as early indications were for a field of 15 or 16 three-year-olds to come out a-run'n' in Saturday's 68th Kentucky Derby.

And this biggest collection of Derby gallopers since War Admiral led the Conga line for 19 others five years back, represented what was probably the outstanding display of bargain basement offerings ever to sit in on Col. Matt Winn's shindig.

This fact, added to the size of the field and the way most of the classiest candidates in the lot have been hot as firecrackers one day and cold as last night's mashed potatoes the next, left most of the hardbodies wondering just who was "Mr. Big" in the outfit.

Requested-jockey in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica Saturday—in which Apache's tired third place finish brought clouds to Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons—left him a slight betting ouch in today's callover. But along with the triumph for Texas Ben Whitaker's little fellow, you still couldn't overlook Alsab's improved stepping in the Chesapeake at Havre the week before and Devil Diver's dashing 2:09 3-5 workout over the full mile and a quarter route yesterday to show he's all over that cut leg.

The result was that the sixty-four-dollar question hereabouts was "how does it all add up."

The Athletics got a pair of nine-inning pitching performances out of Luman Harris and Roger Wolff and walked off with both ends of a twin bill with the Senators at Washington, 6 to 1 and 6 to 3.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers tightened their grip on the lead and the Pittsburgh Pirates pushed the New York Giants out of second place with the help of the Boston Braves.

Playing with something of a makeshift lineup, the Dodgers downed the Philadelphia Phils, 3 to 1 and 10 to 2, hiked their record to 11 wins in 14 starts as Curt Davis and Ed Head chalked up their third pitching victories against no defeats.

The Brooklyn lineup, scrambled to make up for the loss of a trio of sick and injured players, was weakened further when Dixie Walker was spiked in the foot in the second game and shelved for at least a week.

The Pirates blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, 2 to 0, and the first game at St. Louis, but the second wound up in a 4-4 deadlock when darkness intervened at the end of the 11th.

At New York, the Boston Braves snapped out of an eight-game losing streak and ended the Giants' four-game winning party by capturing a double hit, 3 to 2 and 8 to 5.

The Cincinnati Reds entertained their first Sunday home crowd with a 9-5 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

SOFTBALLERS DRILL

The Recreation Center softball team will hold a workout this evening on Beatty field, starting at 6:30 o'clock. It was announced today by Shay Font, in charge of the club.

Font asked that all prospective players having been contacted and any others that may wish to try out be at the field promptly. Every player is welcome.

SPORT SPATTERINGS

The pistol range on Market street in Jamestown was a sorry sight last Friday night when Warren and Jamestown teams climaxed their season. . . . Not because Warren was beaten, but because both teams were just not up to par, and several individuals really experienced a wild night. . . . Johnny Schuler, considered one of the best shots in this area of the state, was way down from his usual average. . . . Hitting 255, he had a hard time placing third in the expert class. . . . Ken Hedstrom Jamestown shooter who is usually luke-warm, took high honors with 260, a score that usually is quite a way down the line in a good match. . . . Mrs. Johnny Schuler took a medal during the evening in the marksmanship class, and did better than most of the men taking the circumstances into consideration. . . . The tourney wasn't anywhere near as big as Jamestown would have liked to have seen it, but both teams had a good time with a swell party following the shoot. . . . Harry Grayson, NEA Service sports editor, who frequently adds a few phrases through his column in his crusade against sports not aiding the war effort, sites the fact that "tennis and horse racing are tinged with blue, the reflection of the noses of their officials. The sport of kings is generally controlled by men with the wealth of Croesus. Tennis moguls were conspicuously absent from relief rolls. Yet of all the various sports, tennis and racing have done least for the war effort," says Harry. . . . Boxing, he adds, won an aura of respectability only after its superb job of pitching in after Pearl Harbor. . . .

With a seating capacity for spectators of 72, the Penn Bowling Center, expected to open tomorrow or Wednesday, will have one of the largest galleries in northwestern Pennsylvania. . . . Only one or two emporiums in Erie come up to this standard. . . . Modernistic features lighting, layout, etc., should have their effect on the scores of local regulars, also. . . . Lon Warneke, of the Cardinals, holds a lifetime pitching edge over all of the seven other National League clubs. . . . Boxing mourns the loss of one of its brightest stars in the passing last Friday of Jack Blackburn, trainer of World Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis. . . . When the Bomber was informed of the news, he said, "I've taken a lot of blows in my career, but never anything like this." . . . And "Chappie", as the amiable Blackburn referred to Louis, might not have been champ but for the accurate advice passed along by Blackburn. . . . Johnny Vander Meer of Cincinnati no-hit, no-run game, refuses to give autographs the day he is southpawing. . . . Just a superstition. . . . Every ball player has his own pet superstition, such as Charley Clawson's belief he can't play ball without a dirty uniform. . . . Seven of the National League clubs—all except Brooklyn—had new faces in the lineup on opening day this year. . . .

SPORTSMEN'S WAR EFFORT IS LAUNCHED

Harrisburg, April 27.—(F)—Registration of Pennsylvania sportsmen, who have volunteered to help labor-short farmers, is under way in Pennsylvania, agricultural department officials reported today.

The registration of hunters and fishermen follows the last of eight regional meetings at which plans were made to organize sportsmen into harvest crews, willing to go wherever help is needed.

Officials of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, who advanced the idea at an annual meeting here in February, said all of the group's 100,000 members would be canvassed and efforts would be made to reach the other 500,000 sportsmen.

At each area meeting, sportsmen and farmers' representatives decided it would not be feasible to conduct a state-wide, co-ordinated program. Instead they agreed to organize by regions and to make available to farmers the names of those men in the vicinity who had offered to help.

In each of the eight state areas, one sportsmen's club has been selected to conduct the registration of sportsmen in its section.

Department of Agriculture officials said the sportsmen's help would prove most useful after the Fourth of July when the harvesting season is in full swing.

Regional meetings to plan the volunteer program were held in Williamsport, Scranton, Reading, Hershey, Altoona, Pittsburgh, DuBois and Erie.

K. C. Keglers Off Pace In Big Tourney

A good time was had by all, and that's about the extent of the story telling of the trip to the national K. C. C. tournament in Cleveland over the weekend which was taken by 22 of the best local Casey bowlers.

There were occasional outstanding individual scores, but the competition was much too sharp to offer much chance for placing in the money to the local regulars.

Of the four local five-man teams rolling, Notre Dame hit 2512 for the best effort. Santa Clara had 2264, Fordham 2165, and Holy Cross followed with 2138. No 600 individual totals were posted.

In the doubles, Frank Gerardi and J. Scallise topped the pins for 1098 to lead the Warren entrants, Gerardi pacing the attack with 581. He had a 227 second game. Johnny Salamon and Proud hit 1080, the former getting 218 in his third game and Proud hitting 221 in his second, while Paul Coppola hammered out 217 and 602 as he doubled with Oriole in post-1003. Oriole might have placed them in the money bracket but for falling down to a low 401 total.

The remainder of the doubles scores were nothing above average.

The best singles score fired was 542 by Tony Fazio, on games of 188, 184 and 170. Paul Coppola chalked up 539, J. Scallise 521, and Frank Gerardi and Leo Minelli each hit 516.

Well, they didn't find the pot o' gold, but there isn't a single one of the 22 staggeiros who would have missed the trip purposely—ask them!

Lightning is among the chief causes of forest fires.

Intramural Plan Only Escape From Complete Cancellation of Game

Four teams are lined up and ready to go in a high school baseball loop that will have to serve for a reasonable facsimile of the usual diamond season for WHS this spring, according to an announcement made this morning by Director of Athletics J. B. Leidig.

Stressing the fact that the school is fortunate to have an enrollment whereby a quartet of clubs can be drawn up, thus producing some kind of springtime recreation, Leidig was emphatic in his remarks that showed a definite picture of the Dragon sports set-up.

Tire rationing, now gasoline rationing, has thrown K. O. punches at schools in the area, and only if it is possible to arrange transportation without cost can any games be played with county teams from other schools this spring. Baseball costs money, brings nothing into the athletic association's treasury, locally, and thus must suffer the first cuts in trimming the local athletic program.

If weather permits, and no other obstacles arise, the first game of the season will be played on the Russell field layout tomorrow afternoon, beginning at three o'clock. The four teams have no names, are numbered one, two, three and four, and the opener is slated between the No. 1 and No. 2 combinations.

Personnel of the four clubs is as follows:
Team No. 1—Bennett, Lundquist, D. Kifer, Davis, Vesling, R. Eaton, Albaugh, McLain, J. Eaton, R. Anderson and Templeton.
Team No. 2—Matthews, McLean, Ruhlmann, Hanks, Wills, Dalrymple, Reider, Hanson, Barris, Saraceno, C. Swanson.
Team No. 3—Brooks, Dean Nelson, Tome, Notoro, Genge, Seaman, Berdine, Meneo, Breed, Schneider and Jury.
Team No. 4—Urbaniski, Peterson, Carlson, Frontera, Johnson, Don Nelson, Scalise, Zueri, E. Swanson, Wallin, and Shelton.

The remainder of the schedule, no definite number of games set, however, runs as follows: Teams 3 and 4, teams 1 and 3, teams 2 and 4, teams 1 and 4, teams 2 and 3. This procedure can be repeated as long as the weather and time permits, it was stated by Leidig.

Tea was rationed in Ireland recently at the rate of one-half ounce per person per week, according to the Department of Commerce.

Secret Orders

Chapter 16
Stolen Ambulance
"DON'T be ridiculous, Steve," Vicky snapped a little later as the two girls went upstairs to bed. "Henri's one of the nicest men I've ever met. All your silly suspicions about plots and intrigues is just so much rot. Henri's a gentleman."

"Maybe you're right," Stephanie sighed wearily. "I hope so."

"Certainly, I am. Now get some sleep and stop thinking up wild notions."

Stephanie did sleep, but only because she was utterly exhausted. But anxiety was right there the next morning ready to take hold of her every thought. A dozen times she was tempted to telephone her father at Titan. But every time she picked up the phone, she put it back before the operator responded. Dad already had enough to worry him. Unless she had something definite to report, no use bothering him more.

Then at six o'clock, just as she was ready to leave Headquarters, she got orders to report down at the war plant immediately.

"Two transports from the Islands are coming in," her superior informed her curtly. "You'll help with the refugee women and children. Take them to Travellers' Aid and Big Sisters until we find further accommodations."

She backed the big station wagon up to the curb in front of Pier 71 and climbed out. As she did, the mounting wail of a siren howled over the city. Stephanie shuddered. That uncanny scream seemed more terrifying than the blackout which followed almost immediately. She stood, watching the lights blot out, wondering why the darkness that flooded over the city seemed so ominous.

Eyes growing accustomed to the dark, she made her way to the big door of the huge building out along the pier. As she stood trying to see which way to go through the cavernous shadows inside, someone touched her arm. "You're from the Red Cross?"

Then she nodded. "Okay, Follow me."

His guide, a tall soldier, led her the length of the building to the yawning opening at the end where she could see the waters of the bay silvered under a rising moon. A group of men and women in uniform waited there and Stephanie caught from them instantly the taut excitement of the moment. Towering high beside the pier, the transport loomed like a ghost-ship, so dark, so silent save for the tortured whine of scraping pilings, the rattle of a chain as the gang plank was lowered into place.

"Wounded First!" "HERE they come," someone said a moment later as dim figures separated themselves from the shrouding shadows on the deck, started down the steep walk. "Wounded soldiers first!"

Pressing close to the railing, Stephanie tried vainly to recognize a face, a tall, blond-headed figure. But the waxy faces of the injured men lying so terribly still on the stretchers were none of them familiar. She could hear the orderlies cursing as, once inside the big warehouse, they stumbled in the dark. And an occasional groan wrested from a wounded man.

These wounded must be taken to shelter as fast as it was humanly possible. And the women and children too.

But the long line of men bearing stretchers seemed never to end. Slowly, carefully they came out of the ship, were swallowed up in the darkness behind her.

Hurry, she thought frantically, hurry and wondered at the quiet calm of the tight-lipped officer who stood at the foot of the gang-plank checking ambulance numbers against a list in his hand.

There'd be plenty of hot water to get out of if anyone discovered that she and not the regular driver had taken the wheel.

But she had to know about Kurt, see him even for a moment. Tense, concentrating on the dim, ghostly shadow of the ambulance ahead, Stephanie strove to see through the dark chasms between tall office buildings where even the moonlight didn't penetrate.

Then, in spite of her, anxiety conjured up all kinds of horrible pictures. Kurt must be out of his mind. What terrible thing had happened to him? What suffering lay behind—and ahead for him?

The car ahead turned, disappeared. Stephanie pressed harder on the accelerator, reached the corner. The streets divided three ways. Drawing a long breath, she slipped an imaginary coin, turned left. This had to be right, she prayed silently. Fate couldn't be so cruel as to make her the instrument of prolonging Kurt's agony. And perhaps, she realized with a pang, his recovery might actually depend on her now. And delay might make the difference between life and—death.

Patient Defense Holds Up Aces

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

The Liberman Pairs in the Eastern States Championships is restricted to players with less than ten Master Points. Here is a hand I kibitzed, in which I was struck by the brilliance of the defense. Declarer might have played the hand better, but it is understandable that he was led astray by the great patience of the defenders in holding up aces.

♠ K 8 4 2	♥ 7 5	♦ K J 10 7 3	♣ Q 2
♠ A 10 7 6	♥ 9 6 3	♦ A 8	♣ 6 5 4 3
♠ Q 3	♥ A J 4 2	♦ Q 9 4	♣ 10 9 8 7

♠ J 9 5	♥ K Q 10 8	♦ 6 5 2	♣ A K J
♠ 10 9 8 7	♥ 6 5 4 3	♦ A 8	♣ 6 5 4 3
♠ 10 9 8 7	♥ 6 5 4 3	♦ A 8	♣ 6 5 4 3

The opening lead was won by the ace of clubs. South led a diamond, finessed the ten in dummy, and East let him hold the trick. Back came a heart to the king, and West nonchalantly dropped the four-spot. Another diamond led to the jack forced out the ace, and East led a club.

South won and ran the diamonds. On the long diamonds the defenders ditched all their clubs, and East let go the six of spades. South discarded the five of spades, and then after some thought parted with the nine-spot. Dummy then led the other heart and South's queen was captured by the ace.

Deep Finesse Is Brilliant Maneuver

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

A player who excels in accurate analysis is Howard Schenken. Although his team lost in the finals of the Reisinger knockout team contest at the Eastern States tournament, Schenken came through with the brilliancy shown today.

Sitting South, Schenken held up the ace of spades until it was forced on the third round. Dummy

♠ J 10	♥ K 10 9 3	♦ K J 9 5	♣ A 10 2
♠ Q 9 5 3	♥ 7 5	♦ K J 10 7 3	♣ Q 2
♠ 10 9 8 7	♥ 6 5 4 3	♦ A 8	♣ 6 5 4 3

let go a diamond. Schenken led the six of hearts, and when West played the four Schenken called for the three from dummy! Schenken thereby developed two heart tricks, and so made game by winning four diamonds, a spade, and two clubs. When asked how he had come to make this deep finesse in hearts Schenken replied:

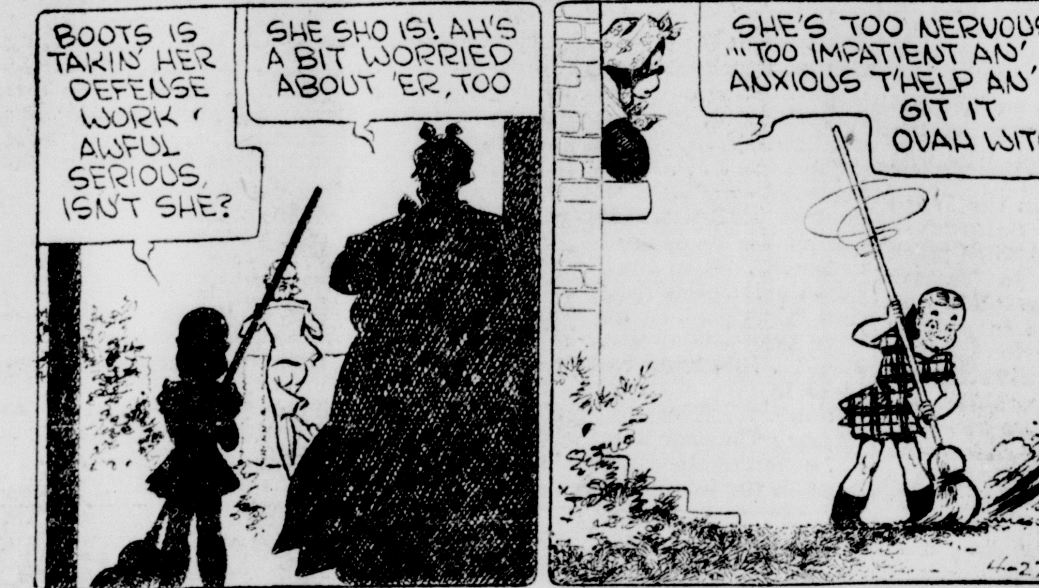

"If I gave up a club trick and split the suit, I get only eight tricks. I will still need a heart trick. If West has the ace, he will make his spades and I am sunk. If East has the ace I will lose two hearts before I can win a trick, so then I will lose five tricks at least. The only hope is to develop two hearts at once, giving up no club trick. Since I have to hope that East has the ace of hearts, I have no choice about finessing against the eight-spot. I couldn't possibly win the fourth round of hearts with the three."

Of course West could have blocked the plan with covering both the six and seven of hearts when they were led. But would you think of doing that, in West's position?

Five Killed and 262 Hurt in Tube Wreck

released from the medical center after treatment for superficial injuries.

Police and fire department rescue squads descended by elevator to the scene, setting up floodlights to remove the injured. The funerals were so heavy that the rescuers dunned gas masks.

At the street surface, buses, taxicabs, private automobiles and ambulances were waiting to speed the injured passengers to the medical center.

The passengers had graphic stories to relate. Sixteen-year-old Martin Stevens kicked out a window and carried his mother out of the third car, unaware that she was dead.

The tunnel is the oldest in service linking New Jersey with Manhattan. It was completed in 1904 under the administration of the late William Gibbs McAdoo, then president of the Hudson and Manhattan.

300 Pupils Participate In Festival

The spring concert given Saturday evening in the Beatty school gymnasium, presenting approximately 300 students in the initial county music festival, proved an entertaining and worthwhile experiment in the history of public school music in this immediate vicinity.

With about 650 persons in attendance, the response was enthusiastic and young musicians and their directors were heartily commended. It seemed the general impression that an important piece of work is being done by the public school music teachers in rural communities and the movement, now firmly established in many county schools, is one that should be supported by the public at every opportunity.

The festival was arranged primarily as a get-together for the larger vocal and instrumental ensembles prevented from entering district and state competitions because of increasing transportation difficulties and the result was one of which all those associated with it might be very proud.

Participating were the local cappella choir and orchestra; Sugar Grove Orchestra, Pleasant, Mead and Glade Township Rhythm Band, Russell High School Band, Tidewater High School Girls' Chorus, Youngville High School Orchestra, Sheffield High School Girls' Chorus and the Mead, Glade and Pleasant Township Grade Chorus.

Richard J. Stocker, music director in Franklin schools, contributed much with his written comments presented to each director at the conclusion of the fine program.

Friends of Robert Carlson, Pennsylvania, avenue, east, who was injured in a train accident at Sheffield last week, will be pleased to learn that he is sufficiently improved to permit him to have visitors.

Plans have been completed for the reception to be held at the Philomel club Wednesday from 11:15 until one o'clock honoring Major General Edward Martin, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. General Martin will be accompanied by several other candidates including John C. Bell, seeking the nomination for lieutenant governor, and William S. Livengood, secretary of internal affairs. A luncheon will be served and the public is cordially invited.

The Warren Fire Department experienced a busy weekend when they were called twice each on Saturday and Sunday. Shortly after noon on Saturday the department went to North Willey street to extinguish a small grass fire and about an hour later went to the 500 block on Beech street to assist in fighting a woods fire which endangered a house. Yesterday the emergency truck was called to extinguish a grass fire at the foot of Parker street, which about 8:40 p. m. yesterday the department went to the Harold Frost residence, 10 Alexander street, to investigate a report of smoke, which proved to be from paper being burned in a furnace.
